

FEFU
FAR EASTERN FEDERAL UNIVERSITY

FEFU President Nikita Anisimov

The campus has always been a place of concentration of people, a "boiling point" of intelligence and creativity

The limitations related to Covid-19 speak of the risks to a modern understanding of the campus

The measures taken are sufficient to overcome the short-term risks of the campus existence

There are systemic problems that can lead to instability in campus life in the medium term

This requires an extremely urgent and total review of campus development strategy

AN INTERNATIONAL CAMPUS PRESERVATION PROGRAM, INCLUDING:

- a set of international social and humanities studies of the university campus
- a complex of psychological and pedagogical research
- a set of measures aimed at developing a campus security
- a set of measures aimed at developing a system of psychological safety
- a set of measures aimed at developing a system for preserving the culture of scientific research
